

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, July 1. 1707.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated July 1.

Ratisbon, June 20.

THE 16th Instant the Diet of the Empire held an extraordinary Council, to deliberate upon the dangerous State of Affairs in the Empire; and Means were propos'd, as proper for the Estates of the Germanick Body and the Allies to make Use of, for succouring the Empire, hindring the Enemy from penetrating further into it, and even for obliging them to repass the Rhine. The 17th a Project for those Purposes was sent to Passau to Cardinal Lamberg, to be communicated to the Emperour, whose speedy and favourable Answer to it was desir'd. In it his Imperial Majesty was most humbly desir'd, to do all that in him lyes, that in the first Place the Army may be reinforc'd by a good Body of Troops of the Empire and of other foreign Potentates; to acquaint the Circles of the Upper and Lower Westphalia, several particular Princes and States of the Empire, and the High Allies, of the Danger to which the Enemy is reduc'd; to exhort them for the Good of the common Cause and of Germany, to furnish without Delay not only their Contingents, but several thousand Men besides; to offer to Prince Eugene of Savoy the vacant Office of Roman Catholick Field-Marshal, pursuant to a Resolution pass'd the 1st of February last; to enjoyn him by Virtue of that Resolution to accept that Command and repair to the Army of the Empire to prevent the Calamities that threaten it, and drive the Enemy within their ancient Bounds; and in Case Prince Eugene cannot, for weighty Reasons, be put at the Head of the Army, to place over it a General of Experience in the Art of War, in whom the Estates may confide, to assist the Margrave of Bareith in all he can. At the same Time the Diet resolv'd to communicate this to M. Mortagne Resident of the States General of the united Provinces of the Netherlands, and to desire him to represent to their High Mightinesses the Danger with which the Empire is threaten'd; in Hopes their High Mightinesses, by Virtue of their Alliance, and in Consideration of the Common Cause, may be induc'd to send speedy Succours. The Resolution pass'd by the Diet the 1st of February, were ratified Yesterday by a Decree from his Imperial Majesty, in which he promises that agreeably to that Resolution he will make Instances to the Queen of Great Britain and the States General of the united Provinces of the Netherlands, to send up to the Empire the Saxon Troops that they have taken into their Pay, and some other Troops besides for redressing its Affairs. At Nine a Clock last Night, the Diet receiv'd a Letter from the Circle of Franconia dated the 18th, importing in Substance, that the Express which that Circle had sent to Leipzig to King Augustus touching the Saxon Troops which England and Holland have taken into their Service, was return'd with an Account that his Majesty had answer'd he had no Right to give Orders about the March of those Troops; but that he had intimated, that if the Emperour or Empire could find Means to take into their Pay some Troops, he could furnish them with 6000 Saxon Horse at a very short Warning.

Stockholm, June 15. A Medal has been struck here, on Occasion of the Peace made in Saxony between our King and King Augustus. On one Side stands Mars representing the King of Sweden, and Hercules representing King Augustus, Hand in Hand, in Token of Friendship, and trampling on Discord; over-head are these Words from Virgil's 12th Æneid, Cognato Sanguine Victus; at the Bottom are these, Pax Sueciam inter & Poloniam facta Alt-Runstad 1706: The other Side represents Leipzig where the Peace was chiefly negociated by the Ministers appointed, and above it is Mercury descending on the Wing, and proclaiming Peace and Tranquility to that trading City, by these Words, from Seneca's Hercules furens, Alta pax gentis alat, ensesque I teant. Round the Edge are these Words, from Virgil's 8th Æneid, inter se posito certamine Reges fœdera jungebant.
